

5 Top Salons for Eyebrow Threading in Boston

by Kyle Wright - Citysearch Contributor - 26 Reviews - 4 Lists

Updated: November 03, 2009

For the follicle-conscious, the battle against bushy brows can end up more a grail quest than a depilation event. Ladies (and properly groomed gents) who wish to eliminate overgrown eyebrows suffer from methods of hair removal often painful and tedious. Enter the growing trend of threading. The technique has been used in the Middle East and Asia since ancient times to remove unsightly hair, using nothing more than a twisted thread to precisely pluck hairs with minimal pain. Unlike waxing, threading won't burn the top layer of skin, making irritation a thing of the past. These skilled threading specialists are all you need to conquer the battle for beautiful brows in Boston. (Photo: Eyebrow threading at Naz Kupelian)

Save Send to Report Abuse

Brow Threading Services

1 Naz Kupelian Salon

311 Woburn St, Lexington, MA 02420 (map)

The folks at Naz Kupelian Salon offer all the pampering necessary to make the trek to Lexington a worthwhile one. If it's ideally arched brows you seek, the salon's staff of expert threaders are professional, understanding and aim to please. If you decide to get a manicure or some foiled lowlights on the way out, that's just icing on the cake.

Read Reviews

2 Luiz Salon

164 Newbury St Ste 2, Boston, MA 02116 (map)

Legions of threaders flock to Fahane, Luiz Salon's resident string slinger. The skilled archer zips through dozens of clients each day, and can happily breeze through your brows in mere moments with minimal pain. With properly shaped brows possible in a tiny time frame, you can swing in and out during your lunch break for in a perfect little pick-me-up.

Read Reviews

3 Amaci Salon

230 Stuart St, Boston, MA 02116 (map)

It's no surprise that when stylist Amad Saab put together the menu for services at Amaci, brow threading was a welcome addition next to his stellar highlighting methods. Skilled threader Amma is gentle and precise, whisking away unwanted hairs with her meticulous string. The vibe at the salon is relaxed yet refined, and first timers get a 20-percent discount, meaning threading virgins have all the more reason to take the plunge.

Read Reviews

4 Gentle Eyebrow Threading by Rema

524 Harvard St, Brookline, MA 02446 (map)

After training at some of Boston's top brow threading sites, hair banisher Rema set up shop in Brookline and has garnered a reputation as the doyenne of threaders in the hub. Since going solo, she's managed to keep her prices at the lowest in the area, and zips through the brows of hundreds each year. A soothing schmear of aloe masks any pain and cools plucked follicles.

Write a review

5 Grace Salon

56b N Union St, Somerville, MA 02145 (map)

Somerville's style mavens head to this Union Square salon for services like Japanese hair straightening and luminous highlights, but brow specialist Binder is a pro at removing unwanted hairs with very little pain and an awful lot of, well, grace. The salon got a huge facelift in 2008, jumping out of the beauty parlor kitsch into sleek style. With prices at roughly half of what you'll find downtown, it's easy to see why so many leave the city to lose their bushy brows.

Write a review