Join Practically Broadway Inc. and the Massachusetts Affiliate of Susan G. Komen for the Cure® for a Special Evening of Pink Cocktails and Fashion!

(Greater Boston, MA) – On Thursday, October 14, 2010 join Practically Broadway, Inc. for their first annual "Catwalk for a Cure: Pink Dress Fashion Show" at the Liberty Hotel. In partnership with the Massachusetts Affiliate of Susan G. Komen for the Cure® in Boston, MA, the fashion show will raise proceeds to support breast cancer research and education. The event will consist of local designers including students and established designers who will have the opportunity to showcase their work by creating and presenting up to (2) unique pink dress looks at the fashion show. The models for the event will consist of breast cancer survivors from all walks of life including local celebrities, physicians and alike. Hair styling and makeup will be provided by Celebrity Stylist Naz Kupelian and his Lexington based salon. The event will start with a cocktail reception and silent auction at 7:00pm. A special signature cocktail by Honest Tea is included with the $100.00 ticket donation. The silent auction items include signed sports memorabilia, trips to New York and Bermuda, Spa Gift Certificates and Restaurant & Hotel Packages.

Practically Broadway Inc.

Practically Broadway, Inc. is a nonprofit arts organization within the Greater Boston area. The organization works to ensemble, entertain, educate, inform, and bring together communities through visual and performing arts. "Breast cancer effects approximately 192,000 women in the US and out of the 192,000 about 40,000 will die from it. I have been surround by breast cancer my whole life, and by putting on this charity event it gives me the opportunity to raise money for women and men who have been diagnosed with this horrible disease. By putting this show on and incorporating survivors into the fashion show it gives them the chance to become more beautiful than they already are and lets them be acknowledged for their amazing fight, " – Bryan Finocchio, Co-Founder of Practically Broadway Inc.
